

What level of diving certification is required?

What level of diving certification is required?

For many of the better reefs and wrecks clients will need to be certified to dive below 20m. For the Great White Shark diving a resort course level certification is required and can be arranged here. For those wishing to do specialty diving like wreck penetration proof of certification in this will be required.